The Holy Land, Syria, Idumea, Arabia, Egypt, & Nubia.

This is a book my father David Perry had a copy of only a few pages regarding Petra.

The book is called: The Photos with the descriptions he had (he only had a few pages of the book) where: "The arch crossing the ravine." (the arch is in Petra according to its discription) "Ancient Watch Tower." "The Acropolis Lower End of the Valley" "The Necropolis" "sarepta" "Encampment of the pilgrims at Jericho" "Temple Called El Khasne Petra" (dad did not have this one but is the Robert David collection "Petra March 7th 1839")

VIII BASIC INFORMATION

Beza had 5 major editions.

1 1556/57: GB. There is no Greek in this version, only Beza's translation, the Vulgate, and his notes.

2 1565: e-rara.

Here is 1565 http://www.e-rara.ch/gep_g/content/titleinfo/1751933

Here is 1580-http://www.e-rara.ch/gep_g/content/titleinfo/1752139

3 1582: e-rara. This version (1582) is where he started using codex Beza and codex claromontanus.

5 1598: e-rara. This one is believed to have been used for the KJV.

Here is 1598 the one I now have here: http://www.e-rara.ch/gep_g/content/zoom/2026240

Dear Jan Krans,

I am having some big problems and I was hoping you or someone you know might be able to help me out.

1a. I cannot understand the Greek alphabet that Beza is using. Do you have a list of the letters he used or know where I can find one? For example I had read an article about Rev. 16:5 here

<http://www.bibleone.org/Article.aspx?channel=1&article=33> but Beza's Epsilon "e" he makes like an "S" or sometimes something else strange seemingly indiscriminately. Here he also makes his Eta "n" look like a backward "j" seemingly indiscriminately.

1b. Beza's spelling is different than Elzevir. I cannot understand what he is doing or how <http://www.bibleone.org/Article.aspx?channel=1&article=33> interprets what he has into Greek letters the way they do concerning Rev. 16:5. Concerning Kai or Tou for example this spelling seems different.

2. Do you know where I can get a normal Greek type text Beza Bible; such as is now available for Stephanus 1550, Elzevir 1624, or Scrivener's backward translation of the KJV into Greek?

3. Can you suggest a good Latin dictionary that would work for Beza? Google is does not work for Rev 16.

Your truly,

Donald Perry

Dear Jan Krans,

Thank you for your quick answer! I also just bought your book, it is very expensive, but I myself do not have the time, so I am glad you did it, it would have cost me much more that way.

You wrote: "...those electronic versions of Stephanus 1550 or Elzevir 1624 are not reliable at all. People should not cite them and pretend they have really given the readings of those editions (or understood what is going on in them)."

Someone, like yourself, should make the corrections. I would gladly pay you in advance for such a work. I do not like Scrivener, because he resorted to the Latin texts when (or so I hear) the KJV only used Greek. How is it that there are so many mistakes in these electronic versions? It is increasable that no one has come up with a worthy 1589 Beza text yet!, and that no one seems to care.

BTW, your links did not work before, they went to empty pages, which is why I asked the first question in my previous letter. When I tried to do a search on my own in that library I could not find those 5.

Yours truly,

Donald Perry

"The third edition of Stephanus (1550) became the standard form of the Greek NT text in England and that of the Elzevirs (1633) on the continent.^[4]^ The Stephanus 1550 text as given in Beza's edition of 1598 was the main source for translators of the 1611 King James Version of the Bible."

I was able to print up my own Elzevir NT on lulu.com, however all I could find is 1624.

Someone should also make a reliable Elzevir version. I do not know what year would be best though, or why there is no 1633 that I can find.

Presently I am using the 1624.
